1990). Moreover, no rational trier of fact could find that the arresting officer lacked probable cause to believe that Anderson was operating a heavy duty truck in violation of Ohio law. See State v. Fulkerson, 623 N.E.2d 436, 439-40 (Ohio Ct. App. 1992).
The district court properly granted summary judgment for the City, and the police officer, on Anderson's claim that the City's customs and practices gave rise to a municipal policy or custom that caused him to be arrested without probable cause. 3 The district court did not address the City's entitlement to qualified immunity for the use of excessive force against Anderson. The City properly does not raise this issue on appeal, however, because it is not properly before us. The district court did not enter a final judgment as to the claim against the City. Anderson may not challenge the district court's judgment denying the City's qualified immunity motion while appealing the judgment for the City on the underlying § 1983 claim. See Johnson v. Jones, 515 U.S. 304, 309 (1995) ("The rule of exclusive appellate jurisdiction prevents courts from deviating from the traditional understanding that the defendant is the master of the defense."). Nor does the City raise this argument in the answer brief. We have considered it sua sponte. See Fed

President Rodrigo Duterte has lashed out at the United States after its representative at the U.N. cancelled funding to his country over a controversial war on drugs. U.S. Representative on the U.N. Office in Geneva Robin Williams confirmed on Thursday that the funding for the Philippines would not be renewed after his country joined the UN human rights council, which the U.S. opposes. The decision followed its suspension this week from the 15-member UN Security Council, where the U.S. holds a veto. ADVERTISEMENT Duterte was left outraged over the United States' decision. Mucous plug obstruction in esophageal strictures is a common problem in India. Various modes of treatment are reported in the literature.

The aim of this study was to evaluate the various techniques of motility modulated dilatation (MMD) to treat this troublesome esophageal condition. Prospective study was conducted to evaluate the feasibility of MMD in 42 patients with refractory symptomatic benign esophageal strictures to assess the rate of patients undergoing MMD as a first-line treatment and the long-term outcome of MMD as a salvage procedure. Patients with refractory symptomatic benign esophageal strictures (12 with long and 30 with short rigid esophagus), who had dilatation under general anesthesia, were enrolled. Forty-two patients were included in the study. The rate of patients requiring MMD as a first-line procedure was 42.9%, and 20% as salvage procedure. The overall success rate of MMD was 88.2%. The success rate for MMD with balloon dilator is 97% and for MMD with Savary bougie is 80% and is better with tight strictures (80%). None of the patients had complication. MMD is a safe and effective procedure in esophageal strictures. With proper selection of patients, patients can be successfully treated with MMD as a first-line or as a salvage procedure. MMD with Savary bougie is a better option for esophageal strictures with short strictures.
